Before I start your design there are a few things that I need your consent for.

My art work is bespoke to you, so please don't take offence for me asking for a 50% deposit of the total price of the tattoo before you see the design. This 50% secures your ink booking and design. Once payment has been made, I can draw up the tattoo for you. I will show you the tattoo in plenty of time for any changes to be made, please be aware that minimal, if any changes can be done on the day you get your new ink as the stencil will be ready and prepared for you.

I wish to protect my artwork so, for this reason, should you not use my design after seeing it and after possible changes not being suitable, I shall refund 25% of the whole price of the tattoo as discussed in the consultation. This would mean that you have taken my original design as I would have sent it through to you and you would have paid 25% of the whole price of the tattoo to do what you will with the artwork.

We will have a verbal consultation with you sending me as many ideas or references with an idea of how big you want it and where on your body. We will then agree a price for the tattoo. My hourly rate is £50 and my day rate is £300 for 7 hours. Please note that timings for tattoos are not completely true. I do not want to rush your tattoo as I wish to hold my integrity and give you the artwork you desire, this of course will reflect in the price should it occur. Bigger tattoos may need two or more sittings which will be at a day rate of £300 or if it only needs a couple of extra hours this will be done at £40 an hour.

Some tattoos fade quicker than others. There is no way to tell the reason as to why a tattoo has faded. Please ensure you follow the aftercare instructions to minimalise fading. Touch-ups to faded tattoos will be charged at £40 an hour.

If you 'tap-out' there are no refunds! Tattoos hurt, but they are worth it if you want them. I do not use numbing cream and do not recommend it as it can cause blow-out, bleed-outs and fading.

I require 48hours notice to change an appointment day but the remaining 50% FOR THE FULL PRICE OF THE TATTOO MUST BE MADE ON THE ORIGINAL BOOKING DATE TO SECURE ANOTHER INK SLOT. The 50% deposit will be kept for failed appointments.

Please sign to show you understand my charges.

It is important that you think about your ink day!

Please ensure that you follow these guidelines to allow a more comfortable day for you and me.

1. Have breakfast! Ensure you have eaten well before your tattoo as I do not wish you to faint on me. If you arrive having not eaten, I will have to take full payment for the day and you will have to book back in at extra cost.
2. Shave the area getting tattooed. This is optional as I have disposable razors however this will allow for more ink time!
3. Wear suitable clothing. Wear loose clothing so you are comfortable but I need to get to the area with minimal obstacles so please wear something that will not impede my vision. Also, please wear something that you don't mind getting tiny ink or blood splatters, it happens!
4. Bring a packed lunch and sugary snacks for full day sessions and sugary snacks for shorter sessions. Your blood sugars drop due to many reasons when getting a tattoo, no matter how many you have had before. To minimise fainting, please follow this.
5. Bring a friend! I have a lovely set up where you can either listen to music or watch a series or movie. If you wish to bring a DVD along with you then feel free!
6. Don't worry if you haven't charged your phone, I got you! I have charging points for you and your plus one for your ink day.
7. Relax!!! Yes, it hurts, but if you like the finished result then it'll be worth it.

Please sign to state that you will follow the guidelines on the day of your ink.
